Major General Kenneth G. Wickham
The Adjutant General
Department of the Army
Washington, D.C. 20315

Dear General Wickham:

The copies of three documents pertaining to psychological warfare operations received with your request dated 29 August 1969--AGAR-S (2078)--have been reviewed. This Agency has no objections to the declassification and release of those documents to LTC James M. Erdmann (Retired), an unofficial researcher.

We have retained the copies of the subject documents for our file. Thank you for conferring with us on this matter.

Sincerely,

CIA Records Administration Officer

SUBJECT : Declassification of OSS Documents

The material forwarded to CIA by The U. S. Army Adjutant General, pertaining to psychological warfare operations, has been reviewed by this office. On the basis of this review there is no objection to the declassification and release of them to LTC James M. Erdmann (Retired).

The references to OSS in the documents in no way compromise any individuals or activities; therefore, from the CIA standpoint, declassification and release of subject material is authorized.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director, Strategic Services Unit

SUBJECT : Declassification of OSS Documents

The U. S. Army Adjutant General has requested Agency comments on the proposed declassification and release to LTC James M. Erdmann (Retired), an unofficial researcher, of the attached documents pertaining to psychological warfare operations by OSS, methods of recruitment, and the use of personnel behind enemy lines. May I have your evaluation and comments on the advisability of Agency concurrence in the declassification of these documents.
